Slatin Bey is a Viennese by birth, 17th year, and after the Bosnian campaign returned there and devoted himself to the scientific exploration of the Soudan. It was here he made the acquaintance of Gordon. When 23 he was Governor of Darfour, and he remained at his exposed post from the first appearance of Mohammed Achimed until Hicks Pacha's army was destroyed in 1883. Shortly before the fall of Khartoum he had to give himself up to the Mahdi, who at first favoured him and made him a Boy, but, though on festive occasions he appeared as an adjutant of the Mahdi, he had not more than a handful of corn to cat. For many months he was in chains. Great interest is felt in the possibility of this rumour being true, and of Slatin Bey's return, after an imprisonment of more than ten years. WHEN 'old' E J. The following report by the Director of Public Works on the resumption of certain properties in the Taipingshan district in month, i.c., rent which the defendant a position of being compelled to intervene the city of Victoria was laid before the Legislative Council yesterday:-

Public Works Department, Hongkong, 6th March, 1895. Sir .- Now that the amounts to be awarded in respect of cortain properties resumed by the Government under the Taipingshan by the Registrar, the defendant's solicitor our position in Asia. Resumption Ordinance, 1894, have been decided, I have the honour to submit for Governor the following report.

2. In accordance with the instructions contained in C.S.O. 3888, I at once, with and the ordinary routine of the department, had the plans prepared, and other information collected, that I deemed desirable for deciding the amounts to be offered by Government in respect of the various properties concerned.

3.—This was, of course, a work of some magnitude, and as the claims rapidly came in ofter the appointment of the Board of ing respect :- By finding that the de-Arbitration, a great deal of my time during the last three months has been devoted to the consideration of these claims and attendance before the arbitrators. 4.—The total number of claims, excluding those by others than owners, received. was 77, involving 118 distinct Inland Lots and 417 houses, the total area of private property resumed being 6.25 acres. 5.—I attach a tabular statement showing the number of the claim, the lot number the area of property, the number of houses, the amount claimed, the amount offered, the amount awarded, and the Crown rent

6.—In many cases, the amounts of the claims were altered on being referred to the Board, and the particulars furnished by the plaimants were incomplete, compared with those they afterwards tendered to the Board, which accounts, in some cases, for the difference between the amounts offered and those awarded. In some cases, however, I was approached by the claimants. and as will be seen from the tabular statements, I was able under the authority of O.S.O. 3385 to obtain that object in several instances. 7.—The total number of claims—

ENGLAND, CHINA, AND JAPAN. The following letter appears in a recently arrived copy of The Standard : -

Sir,-The news which comes from the North of China seems very serious to all those whose experience of that country enables them to understand the extreme gravity of the situation. Events are hurrying on to a point where it seems not improbable that the world may be brought face to face with a peace between the bolligarents which, without warning, and without the possibility of change, except by a bloody war, will place not only the Empire of the extreme East in the hands of the Japanese, but will subject English traders to the control of Japanese jurisdiction, and to the obstruction of Japanese officialism. From the political point of view, even more important events may follow. If the Japanese obtain that for which they are striving-the control of the resources of China as regards mon and material wealth -the position of all European countries in Asia, but especially that of England, will be seriously threatened. It would be uncharicable to assume that our Government to doubt whether they have hitherto sufficiently grasped the situation. The fact that the Japanese have for years past surveyed the coast and the interior of China. made every preparation for a long war, and even for civil administration, and have obtained possession of every important diout our Government, apparently, having the slightest suspicion of what was going on, must lead us to doubt whether their sources of information are sufficient, whether they have appreciated the information which they have received. Even more, when the Japanese first showed their hand by an attack on Corea, it was certainly open to our Government to have made a serious effort to stop the quarrel, It is notorious that the Chinese were so anxious not to go to war that they would probably have followed any advice given them by a friendly Government, and if that advice had been to yield such terms as the Japanese had at that time made in Corea. those wily and warlike Islanders could have had no excuse to make for continuing their the Registrar to allow an item of claim for operations.
